CMTC Guides Miles Chemical to ISO 9001:2000 Certification

TORRANCE, CA – Miles Chemical, a leading full line chemical distributor based in Southern California, has earned its ISO 9001:2000 certification. As part of their continuous improvement philosophy, Miles Chemical, enlisted California Manufacturing Technology Consulting to assist in the implementation of this internationally-accepted Quality Management system

Company officials said that CMTC's team of consultants were great partners in gaining certification by offering their expertise in how to set up a foundation for continuous improvement. CMTC worked closely with Miles Chemical documenting and analyzing all phases of their business processes

Anthony Miles, President of Miles Chemical, stated "We are very excited to receive ISO 9001:2000 certification and the expertise CMTC brought to our organization. ISO is the quality standard that is recognized by our customers and suppliers. This will be tied into our company's Total Quality Management Program so that everyday we can find ways to enhance our service levels and drive internal efficiencies."
